

If That Which Was Done Away Was Glorious

I. Introduction:

A. The Law of Moses and the system therein was never perfect (Hebrews 7:11-28).

1. The Law of Moses did not save for it could not justify anyone (Acts 13:38-39, Galatians 3:10-12, and Galatians 3:21-29).
2. Thankfully, Christ brought something else (John 1:17).

B. Before we get into this lesson that could bring about many points, think how...

1. The faithful of old loved a law that could not save them (Psalms 119:97)?
2. How much greater should we love the words of Christ and keep them (John 14:21)?

II. Body: Much More That Which Remaineth (II Corinthians 3:3-18).

A. A law not meant for tables of stone (Exodus 34:1), but for the hearts of believers (Romans 10:6-17).

1. Working in a certain type of heart (Luke 8:15).
2. His word that should indwell us (Colossians 3:16).
3. Now think about this... The Old Law (as incomplete and hopeless as it was) was effective on hearts (Psalms 37:30-31), what should the word of hope that is meant to work on hearts do in our hearts (James 1:21-27)?

B. A glorious law of hope that brought what the "old" could not (Hebrews 8:1-13).

1. Those under the old law hoped in the word (Psalms 119:114), but the real hope was a hidden mystery to them now revealed to us (Colossians 1:25-27 and I Peter 1:3-12).
2. Think about how the hope we have in Christ should motivate us (Colossians 1:23, I Thessalonians 1:3, Hebrews 3:6, Hebrews 6:9, and I John 3:1-3).

C. A glorious law of liberty (James 1:25; 2:12).

1. Freedom from a hopeless, restrictive law (Galatians 5:1-4).
2. Freedom from sin (Romans 6:15-23).

D. A law that changes us into the image [likeness; representation; resemblance] of the Lord (Colossians 3:1-10).

1. An ability to become a new person (II Corinthians 5:14-17).
2. Restored to what God created man to be (I Peter 1:13-16; cf. Genesis 1:26-27).

III. Conclusion: We live under a glorious law that truly grants us the opportunity to be saved (I Timothy 1:8-16).
