

Studies In First Corinthians

(I Corinthians 6:1-8)

1. Is it acceptable for brethren to sue one another in a court of law?

2. Who will the saints judge?

3. In matters of dispute that brethren must decide, should it be those who are chief amongst us in the judgment seats?

4. If there are not wise brethren amongst the saints that can judge fairly, is that a good thing?

5. Rather than going to law before unbelievers, what should brethren be willing to do?

6. Rather than using wisdom and avoiding the court systems, what were they doing?
